APPENDIX.

TERMS OF ADMISSION.

Candidates for admission to the Junior Class are examined in English Grammar and Analysis, Modern Geography, History of the United States, Mental and Written Arithmetic, through Elementary Algebra, Physical Geography, Harkness' Latin Grammar and Latin Reader. In order that the requisite mathematical discipline may be gained, it is desirable that there be a familiar acquaintance with two or three different authors in Arithmetic,—Greenleaf's National and Eaton's are recommended, and in Mental Arithmetic, Colburn's First Lessons. It will be an advantage to those who are to enter the coming year to advance as far as possible in Latin, as the standard for admission in this study will probably be raised.

Candidates for admission to a higher standing are examined in these studies, and also in those that have been pursued by the class to which they desire admission.

These examinations are so conducted as to make them an accurate test of scholarship, and they will be confined to the first few weeks after the opening of the school year. No one will be expected to remain longer than this, who does not prove herself well acquainted with the preparatory studies.

None will be admitted to the Junior Class under sixteen years of age, and none to the Senior under eighteen.

The only time for the admission of Pupils is at the commencement of the fall term. The first few weeks of this term are considered as probationary, that any who may be found to be particularly deficient in mental discipline or in maturity of character, may not remain through the year to their own disadvantage and to the injury of others.

Pupils are received for one year, and it is expected, extraordinary circumstances excepted, that they will remain through the year. At the expiration of that time it can be decided whether the best interests of the pupil will be promoted by a longer connection with the Institution.

COURSE OF INSTRUCTION.

The whole course of instruction occupies four years. If any are in advance of the first class, they can be examined in the studies they have pursued, and take up the studies of the second year, or give the time to optional studies. The studies of the course will be taken in their order, and pupils will be advanced from class to class according to their progress and not according to the time spent in the Institution.

Courses of Lectures are given every year in connection with various studies. The lectures on Chemistry are given by PROF.

CHARLES O. THOMPSON, of Worcester; the lectures on Natural Philosophy and Astronomy by PROF. CHARLES A. YOUNG, of Dartmouth College; the lectures on Geology by PROF. CHARLES H. HITCHCOCK, of Dartmouth College; and the lessons in Elocution, by PROF. J. W. CHURCHILL, of Andover.

Superior advantages are afforded in Greek, French, and German; and it is hoped that many will be induced to pursue these languages. Provision will be made for those who wish to continue their studies beyond the required course.

Instruction is given in Vocal Music, Reading, Penmanship, Gymnastics, Crayon and Pencil Drawing, and Painting in Water Colors. Instrumental Music is taught only in exceptional cases, but those who have given attention to it can have the use of a piano.

FAMILY ACCOMMODATIONS.

All the teachers and pupils board in the Institution. The family and school are so organized that they form constituent parts of the same whole, each advancing the interests of the other, and both uniting to promote the improvement, comfort and happiness of the household. Everything relative to the improvement and division of time, to giving and receiving instruction, and to social intercourse, partakes more of the simplicity of the family circle, than of the common restrictive rules of the school system.

DOMESTIC DEPARTMENT.

All the members of the school aid to some extent in the domestic work of the family. The portion of time thus occupied is so small that it does not retard their progress in study, but rather facilitates it by its invigorating influence. Yet it is no part of the design of this Seminary to teach young ladies domestic work. This branch of education is exceedingly important, but a literary institution is not the place to gain it. Home is the proper place for the daughters of our country to be taught on this subject, and the mother the appropriate teacher. Some may inquire, "What can be the design of this arrangement?" It may be replied, that the family work must be performed, and that young ladies engaged in study suffer much in their vigor and intellectual energy, and in their future health, for want of exercise. Moreover, long experience has shown that this system tends to secure certain important results in the development of character. This feature of the Institution will not relieve mothers from the responsibility of giving their daughters a thorough domestic education; but it will rather throw before those who are seeking for them the privileges of this Seminary, additional motives to be faithful in this important duty.

PUNCTUALITY, STUDY HOURS AND RECREATION.

Perfect punctuality throughout the year, is the standard presented to every pupil on entering the Seminary. Without a high standard of punctuality, it is impossible to maintain a high standard for study and correct scholarship. The loss of a single lesson or the study hours of an evening, may be felt for many weeks. One imperfect lesson often discourages a pupil, and produces a succession of similar lessons; one absence prepares the way for another, and a deficiency of promptness in one scholar will have its influence on others. It is very important that the regular study hours should be uninterrupted. Calls and visits made by the young ladies, are confined to the regular recreation hours, and the regular recreation day. Their friends in the vicinity are requested, as far as practicable, to make their calls during these hours. Wednesday is the regular day of recreation. The evening of Wednesday is not recreation time.

Friends of the Institution and strangers from abroad, may feel at liberty to call on the teachers any day or hour most convenient for them, the Sabbath excepted.

SABBATH.

The young ladies do not make or receive calls on the Sabbath; neither should they spend a single Sabbath from the Seminary during term time. This Institution is the result of benevolent efforts, and that it will be decidedly religious in its influence, is the reasonable expectation of its friends. In using the appropriate means of giving the Institution such an influence, the Sabbath is far the most important day. While absence on any other day is greatly to be regretted, it is far more so on the Sabbath. However great may be its privileges in any other spot, the excitement of visiting, of meeting friends, and of home scenes, will prevent in a great measure the benefit that may be derived from a proper observance of the day. The place of weekly labors is the most favorable for the scenes of the Sabbath.

EXPENSES.

Board and tuition, exclusive of fuel and lights, are $150 for the school year of thirty-nine weeks; $75 to be paid the first Monday of the Fall term, and $75 the first Monday of the second term. No deduction is made for a short absence. In case of protracted absence, the charge is higher in proportion, at the rate of $4.50 per week.

Pupils coming from a distance are requested to obtain checks on some bank in Boston, Hartford, or New York. Post-Office Orders should be made payable in South Hadley.

It is important that the Term Bills be paid promptly. Much inconvenience is caused by delinquency in this respect.

TERMS AND VACATIONS

The year is divided into three terms. The first term of the ensuing year will be twelve weeks in length, the second term thirteen weeks, and the third, fourteen.

FALL TERM begins	Thursday, Sept. 3, 1874
WINTER VACATION begins	Wednesday, Nov. 25, 1874
WINTER TERM begins	Friday, Dec. 4, 1874
SPRING VACATION begins	Friday, March 5, 1875
SUMMER TERM begins	Friday, March 26, 1875
SUMMER VACATION begins	Friday, July 2, 1875

ANNIVERSARY AND PUBLIC EXAMINATIONS.

The Public Examinations at the close of the present year will commence Tuesday, A. M., June 30.

The Anniversary Exercises will be Thursday, July 2, commencing at 11 o'clock, A.M. Address by Rev. SAMUEL HARRIS, D.D., of Yale College.

APPLICATIONS.

Communications relating to admission to the Seminary may be addressed to the Principal, Miss Julia E. Ward. The name, age, attainments and general characteristics of the applicant should be stated.

TO ACCEPTED CANDIDATES FOR THE ENSUING YEAR.

If circumstances render your attendance doubtful, you are requested to communicate immediately the degree of uncertainty.

Be careful to be present the first day (September 3.) All should come on Wednesday, that they may be in readiness to commence their examinations Thursday morning.

You are expected to furnish your own towels, napkins and napkin ring, one pair of sheets and pillow cases, and one blanket; also a dessert spoon or a tea spoon. Each of these and all articles of clothing should be distinctly marked with the owner's name.

Provide suitable clothing for the season and climate, such as flannels, woolen hose, thick shoes, overshoes, and an umbrella, also a dress for Gymnastic exercises. All these articles should be brought at the beginning of the school year.

It is desirable that as far as practicable you be supplied with an English Dictionary, a Latin Lexicon, an Ancient and a Modern Atlas, the Sabbath Hymn and Tune Book, and books of reference for the study of the Bible, such as a Commentary, Bible Dictionary, Biblical Antiquities, and Historical Geography of the Bible.

You are also requested to bring with you any of the regular text books in your possession, historical works, books containing selections for improvement in reading, standard poetical works, and standard musical works.

Books and Stationery can be purchased at the Seminary on reasonable terms.

In communications by writing there is liability to mistakes between inquiries about the admission of pupils, and decided applications. During the month of June a copy of this Catalogue will be forwarded to each accepted candidate with this paragraph marked. If there is a mistake about the application of any to whom it is thus forwarded, or if any fail to receive the Catalogue who suppose themselves accepted, information should be communicated immediately.

The Mt. Holyoke Seminary is located in South Hadley, Mass., not Holyoke.

All persons wishing to come to the Seminary should stop at the "Smith's Ferry" Station on the Connecticut River R. R., where stages are in waiting on the arrival of each of the trains.

Arrangements have been perfected whereby Tickets and Checks for Baggage can be obtained in New York City, Boston, Albany, and all the large towns on the Boston and Albany R. R., direct for Smith's Ferry.

The Telegraph Office is at Smith's Ferry, Mass. Any dispatches for the members of the Seminary are delivered promptly.

FORM OF A BEQUEST.

I bequeath to my executors the sum of dollars, in trust, to pay over the same in after my decease, to the person who, when the same is payable, shall act as Treasurer of the Mt. Holyoke Female Seminary, located in South Hadley, Mass, in the year eighteen hundred and thirty-seven, to be applied to the uses and purposes of said Seminary, and under the direction of the Trustees of said Seminary.

A building for Natural History and Art, has been projected, and it is hoped that the foundations will be speedily laid. Donations are solicited towards the building fund, and also contributions to the Cabinet and Art Gallery.

Friends of the Institution will find this a fitting time to bring the needs of the Seminary to the notice of men of wealth and benevolence.

Provide suitable clothing for the season and climate, such as flannels, woolen hose, thick shoes, overshoes, and an umbrella, also a dress for Gymnastic exercises. All these articles should be brought at the beginning of the school year.

It is desirable that as far as practicable you be supplied with an English Dictionary, a Latin Lexicon, an Ancient and a Modern Atlas, the Sabbath Hymn and Tune Book, and books of reference for the study of the Bible, such as a Commentary, Bible Dictionary, Biblical Antiquities, and Historical Geography of the Bible.

You are also requested to bring with you any of the regular text books in your possession, historical works, books containing selections for improvement in reading, standard poetical works, and standard musical works.

All persons wishing to come to the Seminary should stop at the "Smith's Ferry" Station on the Connecticut River R. R., where stages are in waiting on the arrival of each of the trains.

Arrangements have been perfected whereby Tickets and Checks for Baggage can be obtained in New York City, Boston, Albany, and all the large towns on the Boston and Albany R. R., direct for Smith's Ferry.

The Telegraph Office is at Smith's Ferry, Mass. Any dispatches for the members of the Seminary are delivered promptly.

FORM OF A BEQUEST.
